Harvesting Nears Completion

The weather for the past few days has been ideal for harvesting. Quite an acreage of flax still remains to be combined. The yield per acre is better than expected, also the grade and if the fine weather continues for another week, harvesting of all crops should be completed.

A WORD OF CAUTION

TO MEN OF MILITARY AGE AND TO THEIR EMPLOYERS

National Selective Service Civilian Regulations authorize the Minister of Labour to require that male employees furnish their employers with evidence that they have not failed to comply with National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations (i.e., the Military Call-Up).

It is intended that an order will be issued shortly, requiring employers to carry out the necessary check on their male employees, and to report any men who do not produce the required evidence of compliance.

The check up will cover every male employee who has reached the age of 18 years and six months and has not reached his 38th birthday. The man will have to show evidence in one of the following forms:—

(a) A man discharged from the Armed Forces following service during the present war should have his discharge certificate. A discharged man who has not a certificate should apply for one in the following manner:—

Army—District Officer Commanding, Military District in which discharge took place.

Air—Records Office, R.C.A.F. Headquarters, No. 5 Temporary Building, Ottawa, Ont.

Navy—Secretary of Naval Board, Ottawa, Ont.

(b) A man who has responded to a direction from a Registrar of a Divisional Mobilization Board, to report for medical examination under Mobilization Regulations, should have either a certificate of unfitness or an order for postponement of military training from the Divisional Registrar. (A man entitled to either document who has lost his copies should immediately apply to the Divisional Registrar who issued the original, for a duplicate.)

(c) A man who has been rejected on application for voluntary enlistment in the Army since the beginning of the war, should have a certificate showing that he was rejected through medical unfitness. (If a man entitled to such a certificate does not possess it, he should apply to the District Military Headquarters of the District in which he applied for enlistment, in order to procure the necessary form.)

(d) A man in the designated classes who has not reached his 38th birthday, who was married as at July 15th, 1940, or who, having been married before that date, is a widower with children, must be prepared to furnish evidence, such as a marriage certificate or birth certificate of a child, to show that he was married before July 15th, 1940, and that he is now either married or is a widower with children.

(e) A man who has reported for enrolment in the Army under an Order—Military Training issued under the Mobilization Regulations and who has been rejected should have a certificate showing he was rejected through medical unfitness. If a man entitled to such certificate does not possess it, he should apply to the District Officer Commanding the Military District in which he was rejected.

(f) (i) A man who is not subject to the Mobilization Regulations because he is an enemy alien who has not made application for naturalization may obtain a certificate from a registrar of his Divisional Mobilization Board indicating that the Mobilization Regulations do not apply to him and such certificates must be obtained by all such enemy aliens.

(ii) A man who is an alien and neither a national of Belgium, Czechoslovakia, The Netherlands, Norway, Poland, The United States nor Yugoslavia and has not applied for naturalization may be relieved of his duty under Mobilization Regulations, but he gives up his right to future Canadian citizenship after the war, where such men have applied for such relief and been granted such status, certificates will be issued by registrars in appropriate cases.

This caution is issued to facilitate compliance with the order which is proposed. A reasonable interval will be allowed to permit men to provide themselves with whatever document, as referred to above, they may be entitled to hold.

Employers are requested to give notice of this proposal to their male employees, to facilitate the operation of the order when issued.

Feed Grains to Eastern Farmers

WHEAT · OATS · BARLEY

1. Wheat, up to 14 bu. per authorized acre and one car of oats and/or barley over the quota may be shipped.

2. Every seller must apply to the Canadian Wheat Board, Winnipeg, for a permit to ship each carload before loading for shipment.

3. Cars shipped will be inspected at Winnipeg for grade and dockage. On the basis of sample inspection, certificates will be issued by the Board of Grain Commissioners, for cars held "too full" for regular inspection. The Inspection Certificate establishes the grade and dockage.

4. Dockage up to 3% is allowed. Dockage above 1% cannot be charged for, and payment will not be made for the difference in weight between 1% and the actual dockage.

5. Elevator scale tickets or railway weights must accompany the bill of lading. Freight charges are to be paid by the farmer in Eastern Canada.

PRICE INFORMATION

On oats and barley the price per bushel to be charged the eastern farmer is the ceiling price (or the cash price if it is lower), basis in store at Fort William or Port Arthur.

GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIES AVAILABLE

As announced by the Dominion Government, the subsidy of 10c per bushel on oats and 15c per bushel on barley applies on oats and barley sold by any western farmer to a farmer or feed dealer east of Fort William-Port Arthur. Special application must be made to the Canadian Wheat Board, Winnipeg, in order to secure payment. Special forms for this purpose will be provided by the Canadian Wheat Board on request. These subsidies will also be paid on community sales between farmer and farmer in western Canada, provided the farmer delivers the grain over an elevator scale and meets other requirements of the Wheat Board.

The Future Of Agriculture

ANY PLANS FOR POST-WAR reconstruction and rehabilitation, both as applied to Canada and to the world at large, are of vital interest to those who live in the Western Provinces. The prosperity of the farmers of Western Canada always depends on general economic conditions in Canada, as well as on the demand in the world markets for grain and other agricultural products. At the present time the farmers are playing a most important part in the winning of the war. Agricultural products from the Prairies are helping to feed Canada's armed forces and her civilian population. In addition, great quantities of Canadian foodstuffs are being shipped to Britain and to the other United Nations who require it. There is also in storage great supplies of Western Canadian wheat which will be available for the starving people of the Occupied Countries when they are liberated. The vital need for farm products in wartime leaves no doubt as to the place of agriculture in Canada at present, but those concerned with this industry have much interest in what may be in store for it in the post-war years.

Chief Resource Is Agriculture

Dr. L. E. Kirk, dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Saskatchewan, in a recent address on "Reconstruction and Rehabilitation," pointed out some interesting facts concerning these problems, as related to Western Canada. "The West," Dr. Kirk said, "is deeply concerned, not only with the outcome of the war, but with the international relations which will obtain after peace is established. Indeed, the future of this country rests mainly on a secure peace, the restoration of international trade and a generous policy of international co-operation after the war." While there is now some industrial development in the West and there are possibilities for further utilization of water-power, minerals and other natural resources, Dr. Kirk pointed out that in all three Prairie Provinces the agricultural resources greatly exceed all the other resources combined. There appears to be no doubt but that this should be a great food-producing area, but Dr. Kirk raised the question of markets and stated that without a great improvement in the standard of living in our own and other countries, great co-operation between nations, and guarantees for future peace, there is little hope for any great improvement in farming conditions here after the war.

Many Problems Are Expected

It is apparent that agriculture will share fully with other groups in having many difficult problems with which to deal after the war, and it is felt that in this, as in all other problems, some preparations should be made to meet the difficulties which will arise. The Canadian Federation of Agriculture has recently made a number of recommendations to the agricultural sub-committee of the parliamentary committee on post-war reconstruction. These recommendations advised, among other things, a "long-term national planning through a comprehensive marketing and production program for agriculture." It was further stated that "unless we are much better prepared to meet the dislocations of the post-war years than we were after the First Great War, a disastrous collapse in our agriculture is possible." The farmers of Western Canada without the trying conditions of drought and depression during the "thirties," and they are now carrying on steadfastly in spite of labour shortages and wartime restrictions, which present many difficulties. It is to be sincerely hoped that post-war conditions both here and abroad will be such as to provide sound prosperity for this great food-producing area of our Dominion.

Eye Disease

Research Into The Cause Of Blindness And Other Problems
Oxford University, London, is to create a Department of Ophthalmology whose activities will include research into the causes of blindness and into the problems of eye disease, teaching, and the treatment of patients. Lord Nuffield has already presented £25,000 ($111,000) for the promotion of research in this field. The newly formed University Ophthalmological Research Endowment Committee is aiming at raising a further £250,000 ($1,110,000) to build, equip and run research laboratories at Oxford.

Mobile Baths

Being Used In The Industrial Centres Of Great Britain
Mobile baths are being used in some industrial centres in Great Britain where war movements of population have resulted in an inadequate number of baths. There are fifteen mobile bathrooms operating throughout the country, able to supply, free of charge and with towels and soap included, up to 2,000 baths a week.

To produce 1,000,000 pounds of war goods daily, an ordnance plant must haul in and out 18,000,000 pounds of material, enough to fill 500 freight cars.

ALL-BRAN TAUGHT ME SOMETHING ABOUT CONSTIPATION

When you're busy as most of us are, working to help win the war, it's doubly important to keep regular. NATU-ALL-BRAN can do to relieve the cause of constipation due to the lack of the right amount of "bulk" in the diet. It's a "batter-try-it" then, forcing yourself to take purgatives that offer only temporary relief.

Eat ALL-BRAN every morning. That's the simple message that thousands of happy people are telling you. NATU-ALL-BRAN is a cereal or in muffins... drink plenty of water... and see what it does for you! Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's, sold in two convenient sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Our Boys And Girls On Active Service

(By Ottawa Observer)

A COMBINED Services campaign (Army, Navy and Air Force) is at present being carried on throughout Canada to hasten the enlistment of another 65,000 more service women to release men for combat duty. The war is just getting into stride as far as the Canadian armed services are concerned.

One of the best known fellows in the Canadian Navy, Nicholas John Evonic, of Regina and Victoria, who has done so much to build up morale of the navy lads, has been promoted to Warrant Master-At-Arms. He was educated in Regina, a graduate of St. Mary's Separate School.

Flying Officer Bitesy Grant, who hails from Watrous, Sask., got in the news lately by "going" Paris, loitering around an airfield in the dark there until he was able to shoot down a Dornier 217, chasing the tumbling ship downwards. He has a dad who is also in air force blue, Squadron Leader W. W. Grant, a signals expert in Ottawa. Bitesy says he never expected to see the Eiffel Tower under such circumstances. As a train busier he has 12 engines to his credit.

A group of Wren dietetic advisors have been appointed to Canadian Naval commands, and boy, won't the wide pants boys get more delicious foods now. Heading the group is Paymaster Lt. Commander Doris Taylor of Winnipeg, Man., as chief dietitian. She joined the Wrens in England in 1941, and is a graduate in Household and Social Science.

Military District No. 12, H.Q. at Regina has organized all out to put the boys back to work over among the personnel of that district. They're aiming high, to beat the record of last year when soldiers' income tax was paid by the Government. C.W.A.'s bought nearly half a million in bonds.

Officers trained through the Royal Canadian Navy's new "lower deck" system of advancement are now being graduated weekly in groups numbering up to 25. Under this system every prospective officer must enter the lower deck as an ordinary seaman and get his experience for a full year before emerging as a sub-lieutenant.

Among the men serving on the R.C.A.F. flying boat units from the Canadian east coast station, are many of the boys, some of whom now have well earned decorations. A distinguished flying medal recently went to Corporal Harold Kohn, second engineer, of Bladworth, Sask., who on a trip was first to sight an enemy submarine, which was engaged. Another D.F.M. went to Sergeant William Bedwell, first engineer, whose home is at Marchmont, Sask. He has spent a year and a half on anti-submarine patrol work.

R.C.A.F. fighter pilots still stand by within a few dozen miles of Klaska and wonder, "Where do we go from here?" But it wasn't always like that, if you can remember back a few months before the Japs turned tail and fled. Weather or no weather, the Canucks gave the rising sun boys no mercy whenever the fog lifted. For instance the records show that it lifted on July 26 last, and the boys went on three missions, scoring seven direct hits on Jap fighter strips. In this group enjoying the fun was Flying Officer A. C. Fanning of Dominion City, Manitoba.

MET HIS MATCH

A bartender became somewhat acrimonious in conversation, but the little woman in the witness-box remained calm.

Eventually counsel said: "You say you had no education, but you answered my questions smartly enough." The witness replied: "You don't have to be a scholar to answer silly questions."

Bolzano, the Italian gateway to the Brenner Pass, was Austrian until the close of the First Great War, and most of its 35,000 residents still speak German.

NIGHT COUGHS

YOUR CHILD'S coughing at night may be caused by throat "tick" or irritation, moist breathing, or a cold—can often be prevented by rubbing throat and chest with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime.

VAPORUB'S poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps clear upper air passages, thus tends to stop mouth breathing and irritate restful sleep. Try it!

Relieves distress from MONTHLY

FEMALE WEAKNESS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only helps relieve the distress of monthly weakness, but also builds up the system, restores the health, and gives resistance against distress of "dull" days. Made in Canada.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS

Since September, 1929, tuberculosis has caused 24,000 deaths in Canada and 75,000 persons developed the disease. Dr. G. J. Wherrett, executive secretary of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, reported at the association's annual meeting in Toronto. Even if the present war lasted considerably longer, it was doubtful if the Canadian casualties would equal those caused by tuberculosis in the period mentioned. Dr. Wherrett declared.

Calling for an intensified campaign against tuberculosis, Doctor Wherrett said Canada was short 6,800 sanatorium beds for white patients and 1,300 beds for Indians. He said fluorographic surveys of the population would become general in all the Provinces as soon as the equipment and personnel were available. Doctor Wherrett suggested a five-year program against tuberculosis, and intensive educational work on a national scale.

Mortality rates for 1942, reported at the meeting, showed that Saskatchewan resumed first place with a combined white and Indian rate of 28.1 per 100,000 of population, with Ontario a close second, with a rate of 28.9. In the preceding year Ontario had nosed Saskatchewan out of a lead held for many years.

The Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League this summer conducted a survey of the population of Saskatchewan (43,000), in which 30,000 persons were fluorographed. Investigators discovered 28 open cases of tuberculosis, of which two were active spreaders. Ten thousand persons failed to take advantage of the free survey.

SMILE AWHILE

Mr. Softie: This is my photograph with my two French poodles. You recognize me?"
Miss Canoe: "I think so. You are the one with the hat on, are you not?"

Ethel—Please, can you tell me the time?
Willie—I don't know exactly, but I know it isn't four o'clock yet!"
"Are you sure?"
"Quite. 'Cause I have to be home by four, and I'm not home yet."

Assistant—For value there is nothing on the market to compare with this at the price.
Customer—And how much is it?
Assistant—One moment, madam. I'll ask the manager.

He sat mooning over his cup of coffee and making sheep's eyes at the pretty waitress until she was fed up.
"Is there anything else you would like, sir?" she asked diffidently, as a hint that if you can remember back a few months before the Japs turned tail and fled. Weather or no weather, the Canucks gave the rising sun boys no mercy whenever the fog lifted. For instance the records show that it lifted on July 26 last, and the boys went on three missions, scoring seven direct hits on Jap fighter strips. In this group enjoying the fun was Flying Officer A. C. Fanning of Dominion City, Manitoba.

Young Husband—I suppose you'll threaten to go home to mother. Wife—I'll do nothing so foolish, after this.
"I hear your husband is a golf enthusiast, Bridget."
"Sure, he is, ma'am."
"Has he done any good work on the links lately?"
"Sure, he has. Why he cut the grass yesterday."

Jock—That lawyer chap you told me of is not a man of his word. Mac—Why, what's happened?
Jock—Well he told me that I could talk freely to him, and this morning he sent in his account.

Vicar's Wife—Oh, Thomas, in trouble again? Why don't you renounce the devil!
Thomas—My dear aunt, I don't want to fall out with him. I may have to spend a lot of time with him one day.

Wife was vigorously powdering her face before going out.
Hubby—Why do you go to all that trouble?
Wife—Modesty, my dear.
Hubby—Modesty?
Wife—Yes. I've no desire to shine in public.

CHAPTER VIII.

SIR MAURICE BLAINE was at the inn next night with an invitation for Master John Hale to accompany him to an exclusive club. There, as on the previous evening, cards were the diversion. This was an even more select gathering, with several imposing titles among the names of those to whom Jonathan was introduced, but once again, Jonathan's hope of finding the killer of Denys was unrealized. How much longer, he wondered, must he keep this up?

He had more gold for Tucker when he returned to the inn—and more in the days that followed. No attempt was made to save money; over and above what might be called working capital, every penny went to add to the magnificence that was making the name of John Hale a legend.

At the end of the week, Tucker announced that the house on Pall Mall was ready for occupancy, with a full staff of servants engaged, "it is my turn, now that I have a home of my own," Jonathan said to the faithful and admiring Sir Maurice, to return the hospitality shown to him by you and your friends. All of you must be my guests the first evening."

THE housewarming of Master John Hale got under way in brilliant fashion. In the polished hall room musicians were tuning instruments already in perfect order; in the kitchen servants perspired over ovens and spit. Jonathan moved among his arriving guests, greeting those he already knew, Sir Maurice Blaine to his side to present those who were still strangers.

Jonathan acknowledged an introduction to the Earl of Chelsea, an empty-faced man in flaming silks. "Egad, Master Hale," beamed Chelsea, "I have been looking over on this meeting. What will it be worth to whisper in my ear the name of your tailor?"

"The name of the horse you are grooming for the race next month," laughed Jonathan.

"This a bargain?" agreed the Earl. "Before I leave, you and I shall make an exchange of secrets." A tall man in somber garments appeared beside the brightly beamed Earl. "Good evening, Blaine," he nodded.

"Ah, your lordship!" Sir Maurice bowed. "Lord Farquhar, allow me to present our host, Master John Hale."

It was fortunate, indeed, that Lord Farquhar inclined his head once more, bowing with an elaborateness that consumed a full instant. Otherwise he would have observed the startled recognition in the eyes of Jonathan that no schooling could control. There was no mistaking that harsh face with the bony nose and grating-angled jaws. This tall man in black velvet and black silk was his lordship, with whom Jonathan had fought in the tavern at Wimpole.

"I had to attend this rout," said Lord Farquhar. "They tell me, Master Hale, that you are a veritable devil at cards. I have a passion for the pasteboards myself. Now that we have become acquainted it should be easy to arrange a meeting to test our respective skills."

Sir Maurice said, "His lordship is a devil with women, too, Hale, and Satan himself with the fella." "I heard how Hale taught Shattuck a lesson," said Farquhar. "But it is cards that interest me at the moment."

JONATHAN'S deep-set eyes lifted slowly, but by now he had his features composed, although the blood was still pounding in his ears. "I shall be at your convenience at any time, my lord," he said.

The tall man did not recognize Jonathan, a circumstance that was really no wonder. There was more than periwig and fine clothes to create in Farquhar's mind a picture entirely different from the awkward, plainly dressed young Puritan he remembered. Two weeks of masquerade had left its mark on Jonathan, making him appear older, tainting him with an aura of cynical sophistication.

Farquhar glanced about at the assembling crowd and suddenly brightened. "You will excuse me gentlemen? I have just spied her Grace, the Duchess Catharine, and there is something I must whisper in her pretty ear."

JONATHAN watched the tall, arrogant figure move away, unawared that his hand had stolen to his side, feeling for the sword he had discarded for the evening. Lord Farquhar the fellow could not escape him now. Now that Jonathan knew the name of his enemy, he could find his lordship at any hour of any day or night, and he would account for the death of Monsieur Denys.

The muted music from the ball room swelled and settled into rhythm. Sir Maurice touched Jonathan's sleeve. "Come, Master Hale, you must not miss this. The masque about to be presented will redound to your credit as an entertainer."

"There is something I must first attend to," Jonathan withdrew his arm. "Take my place among the guests, Maurice. I shall be with you as soon as possible."

Before Blaine could protest, Jonathan had strode away. Jonathan had to find Tucker. The chingy weaver, with his knowledge of London, must know the location of the residence of Lord Farquhar. While his lordship was occupied in the house on Pall Mall, Tucker and Jonathan could steal out, go to the Farquhar home, and by whatever means necessary, secure the place. If they found Anne Jamieson, they would take her away, then Jonathan could return here to accomplish the overdue reckoning with Farquhar.

THE search for his elusive servant brought Jonathan at length to the crowded ballroom. Papa remained still for a few minutes his man would put in an appearance. He had told the other servants to inform Tucker that the master required him.

The walls of the ballroom were lined with spectators watching the entertainment progressing in the centre of the floor. Sir Maurice had engaged a group of mummors to put on a pageant interspersed with music, dancing and song. The program was too near its end for Jonathan to grasp the meanings of gestures and pantomime, but he eyed the posturing masked figures with interest nevertheless.

Among the players was a girl in a white mask and white and blue silks, with reddish-brown hair—she so resembled Anne in her actions that Jonathan was tempted to believe—

A flare of music broke the tableau that concluded the spectacle. Sir Maurice Blaine, clapping vigorously, beamed upon Jonathan. "How did you like it, Hale?"

Jonathan smiled—that girl with the red hair—she had been looking directly at Jonathan. . . Lord Farquhar, pushing through the crowd, slapped young Blaine on the back. "Where did you pick up those players, Sir Maurice?" he inquired.

"There are some fine-looking wenches in that outfit."

The sight of Farquhar reminded Jonathan that he was wasting valuable time. He edged away, quitting the ballroom as unobtrusively as possible, and hurried toward the stairway. He could not be delayed longer by this fruitless search for Tucker. He would go to his room, strap on his father's sword and steal out of the house alone and unseen. Without Tucker, he would reach Farquhar's residence less soon, perhaps, but he would find the place nevertheless—

He stopped abruptly in the doorway of his room. The bedroom was lighted and bending over the desk under the wall-light was the dancing girl, now wearing a spangled, blue cape over her white silk dress and still concealing her features with the mask.

Lord Farquhar makes a confession.

To Save Fuel

Maintain High Humidity In The Home And Be More Comfortable
A favourite summer complaint is "It's not the heat, but the humidity." In the winter, however, they become words of wisdom. By maintaining high humidity in the home, householders will be more comfortable even though temperatures are lower. On top of that, they will save many a shovelful of coal.

Even if it were not necessary to save every bit of fuel possible, health alone would indicate plenty of moisture in the air. In winter the air is dry and thirsty. It must obtain moisture from somewhere, and that somewhere is often from an individual's body and nasal passages. Doctors agree that there would be fewer colds and nose infections if humidity were higher in Canadian homes.

There are several simple things that will help to maintain higher humidity. Here are a few of them: Keep the pan in the hot air furnace, if there is one, well-filled with water. If this is not sufficient, place cans of water just inside the registers, not where they'll show, but where they will do their work effectively.

After taking a bath, leave the hot water standing in the tub until it is cold. At the same time leave the bathroom door open so that the moisture can penetrate into the other rooms.
Potted plants make good humidifiers, if they're kept well-watered. Their porous pots literally ooze moisture.

Homes heated by stoves need have no humidifying problems. Just keep a kettle of water standing on the back of the stove.

WILL MAKE GOOD

The Toronto Globe and Mail says Prime Minister Churchill assures united air forces that they shall "beat the life out of industrial Germany." Nothing extravagant in this. Didn't he assure Mussolini some time ago that his African empire would be "torn to shreds"? And wasn't it?

JUST SAWS WOOD

The woodpecker is a realist. With it every knock is a boost. If it looks under a fold of bark it is for cause. In the spring, it excavates a tidy nest, but only in a softened tree. Even then it will hide the chips just in case predatory eyes were watching. Mostly, it says nothing—and saws wood.

No One Too Busy

To Take Care Of The Ordinary Acts Of Courtesy
A lot of people have lapsed into small lacks of courtesy and blame it all on the war, says Adelaide Kerr, writing on Common Courtesy. Too busy with war work and problems, they say, to get this or that done. Better check up on yourself and see whether the shoe fits you.

When did you last write your mother? (Your handwriting looks as good to her now as it ever did.) How many times have you been late to dates in the past month? There is an old axiom: The more you have to do the more you can get done.

How about using some of the time you spend feeling sorry for yourself in getting things done.

HOME SERVICE

YOU MUST KNOW
FUNDAMENTALS OF HOME NURSING

Making Bed With Patient

Today everyone should know a bit about home nursing for one can never tell when an emergency may arise. Particularly in wartime, a knowledge of how to care for a patient at home is absolutely necessary.

Do you know how to make a bed with your patient in it? Some patients cannot be moved out of bed and you have to know what to do. The illustration above is a guide. Full instructions how to do this are included in our 32-page booklet, along with many other necessary things in the daily care of a patient. Our booklet gives the home nurse the important do's and a few of the don'ts are also in order.

As well as the daily care of a bed patient, it gives instructions how to care for a bed patient, how to care for a patient after an operation, a patient with a contagious disease and also how to nurse common ailments such as colds and convulsions.

Baby care is also included. Send 15c in coin for your copy of "What You Should Know About Home Nursing" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and name of booklet.

Wheat Surplus

More Wheat Has Been Sold Since The War Began

A new peak in the carry-over stocks of wheat in Canada, the United States, Australia, and Argentina was reached at the close of the crop year 1942-43, states a recent issue of the Monthly Review of the Wheat Situation. These four countries had a combined surplus of 1,578,000,000 bushels of wheat, or 157,000,000 bushels more than they held a year ago. Four years of war have witnessed a steady rise in wheat-surplus stocks in the major exporting countries. This accumulation has sometimes been attributed to loss of export markets, but this, the Review points out, is not supported by statistics. In actual fact, the group of countries has disposed of about 400,000,000 bushels more wheat in the four war years than in the four years preceding the outbreak of hostilities, taking into account both exports and domestic utilization of wheat.

Every house-painter knows why there's always room at the top of the ladder: that's where the work is done.

Was Always Kind

Ralph Waldo Emerson Would Never Speak Harshly Of Anyone.

Ralph Waldo Emerson, gentle, kind-hearted gentleman, was always reluctant to speak harshly of his fellow beings. One day at the Emerson dinner table there was some mention of a woman who was well known as an inveterate seeker after celebrities. Mrs. Emerson said the woman was a snob. Emerson thought the term too harsh. His wife inquired how he would describe the lady. "I should say," replied the philosopher, speaking very slowly, "that she is a person having great sympathy with success."

WAR PRICES IN BRITAIN

Friend of Alberta Farmers Recommends Victory Bonds to you...

DR. R. D. SINCLAIR has combined practical and academic knowledge of agriculture in a unique degree. Born on a farm near Innisfail, Alberta, he was one of the early students of the School of Agriculture at Olds, and was a member of the first class to graduate from the College of Agriculture at the University of Alberta in 1918.

After spending some time in editorial work with a well known farm magazine, Dr. Sinclair joined the staff of the Department of Animal Husbandry of the University in 1922. He obtained his Master of Science degree at Iowa State College and later went to Aberdeen, Scotland to secure his Ph.D.

Dr. Sinclair was appointed Dean of the University's Faculty of Agriculture in 1942. He is recognized as Canada's outstanding authority on swine production and is known personally to thousands of Alberta Farmers.

Dr. Sinclair urges farmers to buy Victory Bonds.
He says:

"During the past four years of war the products of Alberta farms have made a substantial contribution to the food supply of the United Nations. But the need for weapons of war as well as food is still supremely urgent; one without the other will not finish the job.

"The Fifth Canadian Victory Loan provides further opportunity to make a financial investment in the war effort. The Bonds bought now will help to hold the farm lands of Alberta for Alberta farmers and, at the same time, provide the reserve capital which can be used for improvements when victory comes.

"As one born and raised on an Alberta farm, I appeal to the farmers of the Province to buy Bonds of the new Victory Loan to the limit of their financial resources."

FARMERS AND FARM WORKERS

If Your Farm Work has Slackened for the Winter, You Are Needed
Elsewhere in Essential Employment

Highly essential work—very important in Canada's war effort and for the welfare of the Nation—is threatened with shortages of workers. One of the few sources of men available for other high priority jobs is those men on the farm who will not be needed at home during the Fall and Winter. Heavy needs must be met in many lines—producing vitally essential forest products; in base metal and coal mining, in food processing, in railway track maintenance. If you live on a farm and are not needed at home during the Fall and Winter, you are urged to answer this national appeal.

Farmers engaged in essential work during the off season will be allowed to return home when needed. Also, those on postponement under Mobilization Regulations will continue on postponement while in approved essential work during the slack season on the farm.

Please answer this vital call NOW.
